

Year-End Tax Planning & Stock Awards

As we approach the end of the calendar year, this is a great time to review your tax plan with your financial advisor and/or CPA.

A few items you should consider:

- Are you maximizing your pre-tax deductions (401(k) savings plan, HSA, IRA, etc.)?
- Are you making charitable contributions? If so, are you making contributions in the most tax-efficient way?

For more information visit: PG.marinerwealthadvisors.com

Mariner and P&G are unaffiliated entities.

This article is provided for informational and educational purposes only. The information provided herein is believed to be reliable, but we do not guarantee accuracy, timeliness, or completeness. It is provided "as is" without any express or implied warranties. The information contained herein is not intended and should not be construed as individualized advice or recommendation of any kind. Please consult your adviser regarding your personal situation before making any financial-related decisions. Investing involves risk and the potential to lose principal.

Mariner, LLC offers its services through the brand names Mariner, Mariner Wealth, Mariner Independent, Mariner Institutional, Mariner Ultra, and Mariner Workplace. For additional information about Mariner, including fees and services, please contact Mariner or refer to Form ADV Part 2A which is available on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website (www.adviserinfo.sec.gov). Registration of an investment adviser does not imply a certain level of skill or training.

- Do you have any investments with an unrealized loss? If so, you may want to consider tax-loss harvesting by selling some of those stocks before year-end. You can use $3,000 of realized losses to offset ordinary income while the excess losses are carried forward on your tax return indefinitely.
- Do you have enough tax withholdings to avoid an underpayment penalty (aka "safe harbor")? If not, you may need to adjust your withholdings or make quarterly estimated tax payments.
- Gifting appreciated assets versus cash. There are several ways to do this, but the most common is through a donor-advised fund (DAF).

RSU Vesting

For those who received restricted stock units (RSUs) from their long-term incentive plan (LTIP) election in 2021, the RSUs (and stock options) will be vesting on October 1, 2024.

At the time of vesting, your RSUs will be subject to ordinary income taxes. For example, if you have 100 shares of RSUs vesting on 10/1/2024, assuming the P&G stock price is $175, the taxable income will be $17,500. In most cases, P&G automatically withholds 22% for federal taxes and supplemental rate for state taxes on the supplemental wages.

You should consider your cash flow needs and your overall investment concentration in P&G stock to determine if you should sell immediately upon vesting. Stock options are not subject to tax at the time of vesting, only when they are exercised and/or sold.